RAILROAD INTERESTS.

SUIT AGAINST THE UNION PACIFIC.

NOVEL POINTS OF LAW RAISED IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN BOSTON.

Boston, Dec. 5.—The action at law brought by Henry Budde, Charles A. Peabody and Henry De Coppel, of New-York, against the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and the bill in equity brought by the Union Pacific Railroad Company against Budde, Peabody and De Coppel, were heard in the United States Circuit Court to-day by Judge Aldrich on preliminary motions filed by the parties.

The action at law is brought by Budde and the others, who are a committee of the bondholders of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, whose bonds were recurred by an equal amount of bonds of the Denver, Leadville and Gunnison Railroad Company as collateral. They seek to recover of the Union Pacific $3,000,000 damages. They rely upon a deficiency in the price realized from a sale of the collateral at New-York in October, 1894, which amount was only $2,400,000, and with the overplus interest, to something more.

The suit in equity brought by the Union Pacific against Budde and the others seeks to set aside the foreclosure sale of the Denver, Leadville and Gunnison Railroad Company bonds, which were held as collateral, assuring that the foreclosure was at that time invalid because the Union Pacific was at the time in the hands of receivers and the foreclosure was without leave of court, was without notice, was not in good faith and was fraudulent.

The case was brought up on a motion by the Union Pacific, asking that the trial, which has been fixed for next month, be delayed until the plaintiffs, who are represented in the equity suit brought by the Union Pacific, shall appear in that bill.

The equity case was brought up on the motion which the defendant, Mr. Little's report which has attracted most attention, made to the court with which it was based were the same as those which the railroad took up and set up in defence of the action at law. The motions raise novel and important questions of practice, and the court reserved them for further consideration.

MR. LITTLE'S REPORT CRITICISED.

THE BALTIMORE REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE OF B. & O. TO MAKE AN INDEPENDENT EXAMINATION.

Baltimore, Dec. 5.—The Baltimore Reorganization Committee of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company is not satisfied with the report of Stephen W. Little on the financial condition of the property between the dates of September 20, 1888, and November 20, 1895, the period of the Mayer management, and will probably make an independent examination of the books and accounts of the corporation on lines entirely different from those followed by Mr. Little in his investigation for the New-York Reorganization Committee.

The report that has been issued does not tell how various sums were used, why certain unprofitable lines were acquired, who were interested in them at the time of their absorption by the Baltimore and Ohio, whether or not the considerations were excesssive, and the extent of the commissions paid to the persons who negotiated the deals.

The committee deems it essential to a successful plan of reorganization to know these facts, and to ascertain further who were Mr. Mayer's advisers, and to what extent he was influenced directly or indirectly through the sale of the unprofitable properties to the Baltimore and Ohio.

The equity case was brought up on the motion which the defendant, Mr. Little's report which has attracted most attention, made to the court with which it was based were the same as those which the railroad took up and set up in defence of the action at law. The motions raise novel and important questions of practice, and the court reserved them for further consideration.

LEASE FORBIDDEN BY THE COURT.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 5.—Great interest has recently been manifested in North Carolina in an attempt which has been made to lease to a syndicate for forty years the Atlantic and Danville Railway, of which the State is a two-thirds owner. Prominent Republicans applied for an injunction to prevent the lease. The matter was argued yesterday, and to-day the Judge continued his examination of the case, which probably settles the question that the lease will not be made.

A MICHIGAN ROAD REORGANIZATION.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—The road reorganization of the Detroit, Lansing and Northern Railways was accomplished yesterday at Lansing, Mich., by the filing of articles of the new organization with the Secretary of State, and it will hereafter be known as the Detroit, Grand Rapids and Northern Railway Company. The new company includes the entire Detroit, Lansing and Northern system, and is capitalized at $3,625,500, of which $3,185,000 represents the preferred stock and the rest the common stock.
